

The best benefits are the ones that benefit you back.

When you work with StratEx, your employment data is already in our system - one source for everything, from Open Enrollment to Administration.

The StratEx platform integrates with major benefits carrier feeds - so you can manage benefits from most providers using the platform. But for the highest return on investment, consider StratEx as your benefits provider.

We offer our clients the comprehensive and affordable benefits your employees deserve - and employers also gain significant savings on costs and fees. Plus, with one single source, you are one single phone call away from the answers you need.

StratEx also offers Managed Benefits Services as an extension of our employment services. If your workload is too full to do it yourself, we can handle all aspects of employee benefits on your behalf.

You're already using StratEx to manage employment operations. For benefits that are smarter, simpler and more cost-effective, choose StratEx - again.